THE LATEST.

State News of General Interest Briefly Told.

The Court of Appeals has refused to grant a further delay in the case of Caleb Powers.

Mrs. William Brown, William Spratt, and Mr. Spratt's five year old sister were bitten by a rattlesnake in Garrard county.

Editor R. B. Neal, of Grayson has become associate editor of the Kentucky Star, the Prohibition paper printed at Georgetown.

Thomas S. Petit, the former Populist leader, is a candidate for mayor of Owensboro, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

Jim Floyd and Mary McKay were arrested at Bedford charged with deserting a young babe at Seymour, Ind. The child died from exposure.

The Court of Appeals reversed its decision in the case of Jim Cooper, given a life sentence at Benton for the murder of John Thomas, a colored negro.

The case against Jule Webb, charged with the killing of Fred Hall, which has been on trial in London, resulted in the acquittal of the prisoner.

The city of Paris has ordered a company for $25,000 damages for failure to keep its contract to furnish the city "pure, wholesome water."

John Bumpus, who operates a plowing mill near Lafayette, Christian county, fell dead last Friday while plowing in his garden. He was seventy years old and the father of Walter Bumpus, a prominent business man of Pembroke.

Robert L. Pepper, representing his brother, Charles Pepper, the well known former traveling man of Princeton, has bought the new Princeton Hotel property. The property was sold at public auction and brought $6,000.

John Trabue, colored was found guilty of murder in the Jefferson county Criminal court and sentenced to death. She is said to be the only woman so sentenced in the history of the court, and the judge has suggested clemency to Gov. Beckham.

What came near being a serious fight in the court room at London between two factions was narrowly averted a few days ago. The judge ordered that every man in the court room who had arms to either get out or be searched. An absolute stampede took place.

Louis Burgess, who killed a man in Louisville during the Spanish-American war, and who escaped from the Frankfort penitentiary some months ago, has been arrested in Dayton, Ohio. Burgess stabbed the man to death while disputing as to the justice of the war.

By a recent ruling of the Controller of the Treasury, on and after June 1st, 1901, all post office orders drawn on offices other than the ones at which they are made payable will not be honored. This decision will prove inconvenient to the business men of the larger cities, though not materially so to Marion.

Saturday night Mrs. Kate Hester, of Covington, shot and killed her husband, killing her three year old baby daughter, falling dead across her husband's body. The tragedy occurred in the dining room of their home, and was the sequence of a heated quarrel that was heard by the neighbors. Mrs. Hester was 32 years old and her husband ten years older.

A close personal friend of Mr. Sam J. Shackelford, of Owensboro clerk of the Court of Appeals, says he has determined to enter the fight before the next Democratic convention for the office of State Treasurer. Mr. Shackelford is not eligible for re-election as clerk. He has heretofore been mentioned as a possible entry in the race for auditor.

The Kentucky Court of Appeals has decided that a school superintendent of a county, discovering a violation of the contract of publishers with the State of Kentucky to furnish school books at the same price charged by them in other states, may recover damages to the full amount of the company's bond, the money recovered to go to the common schools of the county.

The latest crop bulletin from Washington for this state says: Conditions improved, but low temperature and lack of sunshine has checked growth; tobacco setting well advanced, but in many localities plants are small and scarce; wheat generally improved but is heading low; corn growing slowly; gardens late; apples dropping; other fruit doing well; cut worms bad in many localities.

ED. PRESS: How do you feel?

There is nothing more delusive than your feelings or more deceptive of real conditions. They are the most real things to you, and you wish them to be treated, especially if they are unpleasant or painful. We respect your feelings and we seek always to relieve our patients of abnormal feelings, but we do not treat them as other doctors do. These feelings are effects from our knowledge of the human body we examine into the cause, and treat the cause. Just think of the questions the medical doctor asks you. He is careful to consider everything that you tell him. Then he trusts your feelings; if it is pain he seeks to relieve it; if it is inaction he either stimulates or purges; drugs do this; but do the drugs cure? You may have found that they do not; if you have been long sick, you have learned the deadly effect of drugs; the average doctor depends on what you tell him about yourself; you could deceive him; if you told him you had a pain on the back of your head he would treat it; if in the bottom of the foot he would take your word for it; not one in a hundred would examine into the cause and condition of the pain; this Osteopathy would do this very thing; this is the chief difference between osteopathy and other met. bods.

Osteopathy seeks to be cause and removes it; do you want the cause of your sickness removed? Investigate Osteopathy; we will help you. Write to Saves Two from Death.

"Our little daughter had an almost fatal attack of the whooping cough and bronchitis," writes Mrs. W. K. Haviland, of Armonk, N. Desperate throat and lung diseases yield to Dr. King's New Discovery as to no other medicine on earth; 50c and $1 bottles guaranteed by J. H. Orme; trial bottle free.

THE GREAT OIL FIELDS

Of Texas Described by a Former Crittenden County Boy.

PORT ARTHUR, TEX., May 26.

EDITOR PRESS: Dear Sir:—There seems to be a loyalty to home and to the principal organ of communication of Crittenden county, the PRESS, that fills the hearts of Crittenden's sons when away from home, and I feel it on me now, and if you will be so kind as to give a little room in the PRESS I will be glad to give you a few pointers on the town where I have made my home for the past six months.

Port Arthur, Texas, is an inland port in the southwest part of the State, fifteen miles from the Gulf, and is the terminus of the Kansas City Southern Railway; it is connected with the Gulf by a deep water channel through which the largest ocean steamships can pass and anchor at the docks.

Port Arthur is only about five years old and has about one thousand inhabitants, some of whom are the most influential and wealthy people of the country. The town was laid out in the most modern style, with several acres of parks that are well set in shrubbery and flowers that stay green the year round. This, with many other things that I will not take space to mention make it a typical southern town.

The famous oil wells of southeastern Texas, that have attracted the attention of the world during the past few months, are only a few miles from Port Arthur, and have caused a great boom for the town. You have doubtless read the phenomenal reports of this great oil field and probably doubted the truth of many of the reports, but being an eye witness of this great oil field I might be able to tell you a few things about it that you would not believe otherwise.

The first well was struck January 10, 1901, and when struck the oil began to flow like a great geyser and gain in force until it went about 100 feet high, and was uncontrollable for four days before they could stop the flow. From the very day that this geyser was struck men began to form companies to bore for oil and to buy and lease land and pay prices for land that would seem out of the question to a Kentuckian. It would seem unreasonable, but land has changed hands in the oil fields for the consideration of from thirty thousand dollars to two hundred dollars per acre.

When I was in the oil field three weeks ago there were about 150 derricks, 11 of which had struck oil, several were digging and a number were waiting for their machinery.

While I was there three wells were turned loose and it was such a sight as I never had seen before; a stream of oil about eight inches in diameter began to flow out of the wells, and gaining in force till it got about sixty feet high when it was cut off.

The oil fields with the rich and boundless prairie will, doubtless, make southeast Texas famous in the country.

Thanking you for the news columns of the PRESS that come to hand every week, I remain

Yours as ever,

JACOB CRIDER.

IN THE FIELD OF LABOR.

President O'Connell, at Toronto, Ont., Declines to Discuss the Buffalo Strike.

THE MEN WINNING AT HARTFORD, CONN.

Paper Mills at Holyoke, Mass., to Shut Down on Account of the Machinists' Strike—Newport News Ship Yards Men Strike—Men's Demands Granted, Etc.

Toronto, Ont., June 3.—A report that President O'Connell of the International Machinists' association has said that the action of the machinists of the New York Central in Buffalo, who struck on Saturday, was precipitate and contrary to the constitution of the order, was referred to Mr. O'Connell, but he declined to say anything until he had interviewed the Buffalo delegation. The matter will come before the convention, but in any event it is expected the association can not approve of the strike, as it had not been sanctioned by three-fourths of all machinists on the Central's system, as provided for in the constitution.

MEANS DEMANDS GRANTED.

Eighteen Hundred Men Return to Work at Hartford, Conn.

Hartford, Conn., June 3.—Eighteen hundred of the men who have been on strike here have returned to work in six machine shops, the companies having granted their demands for a nine-hour day with ten hours' pay, while agreeing to recognize local shop committees, but not the union committees. About 700 machinists from other shops are still out, and the lockout at the Hartford machine screw works still continues. Local officials say this company offered to put a nine-hour-day schedule in force six weeks from now, but the union rejected the offer.

Paper Mills to Shut Down.

Chicago, June 3.—Manufacturers and the 1,600 machinists who have struck apparently have settled down for a siege. The strikers put out pickets in military fashion, but so far as known no attempts were made to engage non-union men. The pickets are divided into companies, and these subdivided into squads, under the command, respectively, of captains and sergeants. At stated intervals each squad is relieved by another.

Retail prices will be advanced from 16 and 18 to 18 and 20 cents a pound; porterhouse, from 24 and 25 to 26 and 28 cents; round steak, from 16 to 18 cents a pound and roasts from 17 1/2 and 19 to 20 and 21 cents a pound. Veal prices remain the same, but lamb is scarce and higher.

CROP OUTLOOK ABROAD.

The Mark Lane Express' Summary of the Outlook for the Wheat Crop in Europe.

London, June 3.—The Mark Lane Express, in its weekly review of the crop situation, says: "It is already clear that British crops will be very irregular, but we do not despair that wheat will be up to the average yield. Grain and other pests are much in evidence."

"The crops promise well in Russia, Italy, Spain and Algeria, but there is only moderate outlook for France, Austro-Hungary, Roumania and Turkey."

"There is distinctly less than the average promise for Germany and parts of Poland."

"The regions where there is over an average wheat promise may be expected to produce 150,000,000 quarters; the regions with an average promise, 75,000,000 quarters and the regions with a deficiency 25,000,000 quarters. Undoubtedly, these figures are quite sufficient to account for the very quiet markets."

AN INTERNATIONAL AFFRAY.

French, British and German Troops Get Into a Scrap.

Tien Tsin, June 3.—There was a serious affray Sunday, between international troops. Some British soldiers who were acting as police here sought to prevent French soldiers from horse-drawing, when they were attacked with bayonets and bricks. The French, in self defense, fired in the air. This brought a number of Germans to the aid of the Frenchmen. They numbered together and men five leaders fired again, killing a Frenchman and wounding three others. In subsequent fighting four French soldiers, two Germans and one Japanese were wounded. The arrival of a German officer and a strong guard ended the fray.

RUSSIA AND AMERICA.

The Two Powers Seemingly in Accord as Regards China.

New York, June 3.—A special to the Herald from Washington says: Neither Russia nor the United States will detail troops to garrison the posts to be established at the powers' determination to refrain from maintaining troops upon the territory of a neighboring empire is another indication of her purpose to pursue to the end the policy which she originally adopted.

This policy is absolutely in line with that of the United States and, in fact, from what can be learned, it is the intention of Russia to act with this government in future negotiations discussed in Peking. This attitude has given the administration much satisfaction. The points between Taku and Peking which will be garrisoned by the powers, ostensibly to maintain a safe access for the foreign ministers in the capital, have not been finally determined, though it seems to be understood that troops will be stationed at Yang Tsung and at one other point near Pien Tsin. The size of the garrisons also remains to be established. From what is known, it is the purpose of Germany to distribute the brigade of four thousand men now in Peking among the legation in Peking and the two posts which will be established, Tientsin and Peking, the latter of which originally made the proposal for the garrisons. Whether the Japanese will be represented in the forces to stay in China is not known.

to the "Junior Christian Endeavor," which is a society of no little power patterned after the senior organization.

Much interest centers about the person of Dr. Clark, the father of the movement. Twenty years ago he was conducting in Whiston church, of Portland, Me., a large pastor's class of boys and girls, the members of which were bound to their work by a pledge very similar to the present Christian Endeavor pledge. His wife, at the same time, had charge of a missionary band of girls, the Mizpah Circle. The labor of these earnest workers stimulated a desire on the part of the young persons of the church for the formation of a band or society of Christian endeavors. The society was formed February 2, 1881, and the present constitution, pledge and methods of work do not materially vary from those adopted in the pastor's study of the Whiston church on the evening of that day. The success of the enterprise was soon admitted by all. Dr. Clark wrote an article for the Congregationalist, the subject of which was "How One Church Threw for Its Young People." It was something like a wonderful "Churches in other towns woke up and formed Christian Endeavor societies. At the end of a year the first convention was held at Whiston church. The

The chief attraction in the first meeting will be the annual address by Francis E. Clark, the originator of the Christian Endeavor movement. That the other meetings will follow will also have vigorous interest is assured by the presence of the presence of such well-known speakers as Rev. Matthias D. Crook, D. D., Gen. O. O. Howard, A. A. Bliss, Rev. Charles M. Sheldon of Topeka, Kan., and Booker T. Washington, principal of the Tuskegee institute, and a score of others who are prominently in the public eye.

The Fred society is a unique organization in that it is little more than a bureau of information. Under the supervision of its officers literature is printed and distributed. It levies no taxes nor does it make any appeal to local societies for contributions. All profits derived from the sale of its books, budgets, cards and other incidental publications are used in extending the work. It exists simply for the convenience of the individual societies and for the purpose of broadening the scope of the great work it is doing.

Rank extravagance. They come in white, pale blue, light green and a few of the pretty new shades of pink. Some of the silk gingham have a double border of silk woven on the edge which is meant to be used as a trimming in connection with much lace and yards upon yards of the ever-popular Persian ribbon. Many of the new mercerized ducks and chevrons, cotton though they be, are exceedingly beautiful, and so closely resemble the most lustrous silk as to make them quite indistinguishable for any but the most dressy wear. Within the week I have seen some very swell-looking tailor gowns fashioned of both these materials, those of cheviot being particularly fetching. All were as carefully tailored, even down to the smallest detail, as though made of the finest broadcloth. Some showed in particular advantage with their short Eton

None of the laws were more rigidly enforced than those intended to prevent the "prophaneing of the Lord's day." The old records are full of convictions for violation of them. Captain Kimble, of Boston, was in 1655 set for two hours in the public stocks for his "lewd and unseemly conduct," while on the Sabbath day upon the doorstep of his house, when he had just returned from a voyage after an absence of three years. The story is told of Robert Pike, of Amesbury, that, having to go on a journey, he waited patiently until the sun sank behind the western clouds on Sunday evening, and then mounted his horse, but he had only gone a short distance when the last ray gleamed through a break in the clouds, and the next day he was brought before the court and fined.

shade in millinery is a lovely nut brown, and is dividing the honors with an equally exquisite shade known as "dame pink." Soft straw in this latter shade are particularly popular with milliners just now, who veil them with tulle and generally trim them with flowers in dead tones, sometimes mixed with old lace.

One of the most lovely new models in headgear I have seen was a nut brown straw toque, trimmed with soft pink roses, with some old patterned coffee lace placed to droop low over the brim. Shapes are very flat and wide just now, and very often they are curved at the side. Flowers will be immensely popular later in the season. Many of the new hats are worn tilted off the face, and cut up the back to show the new low neckline, the brims being lined with some controlling color. Some are quite square in front, the entire crown being garlanded in flowers. The wide boat shape is kept flat and simply trimmed with foliage. I rather doubt whether this new flat style of headgear will prove becoming to many, but it is a change; and so we welcome it for its air of novelty, if not for its beauty and general becomingness. KATE GARDNER.

Baroness Burdette Coutts was once shopping in Paris, and whenever she went from one department to another she was escorted by a clerk, who handed her over to another attendant, saying: "Two ten." Struck by the peculiarity of the oft-repeated cabalistic words, the baroness asked the proprietor as she left the establishment:

"Pray, what does 'two ten' mean?" I noticed that each clerk repeated the word to the next as I went from one counter to the other.

"Oh, it is nothing," replied the man. "It is just a password they are in the habit of exchanging." But the baroness was not satisfied. When the porter, a mere lad, brought home her purchase, she said to him:

"My boy, would you like to earn five francs?" Of course he would be charmed.

"Then tell me what 'two ten' means and I will give you five francs." The youth looked at her in astonishment.

"Don't you know, madam? Why, it means: 'Keep your eyes on her ten fingers!'"

That solved the mystery. The richest and most generous woman in England had been taken for a shoplifter.

The Twentieth International Meeting Will Be at Cincinnati, July 6 to 10

A black and white photograph of the Victoria and Albert Museum in London. The building is a large, ornate structure with Gothic Revival architecture, featuring multiple spires, a large central entrance with a clock tower, and intricate stonework. The foreground is a wide, open area, possibly a courtyard or a street, with several figures and a horse-drawn carriage visible. The overall scene is a historical representation of the museum's exterior.

the chief attraction in the first meeting will be the annual address by Dr. Francis E. Clark, the originator of the Christian Endeavor movement. That the other meetings which will follow will also have vigorous interest is assured by the promise of the presence of such well-known speakers as Rev. Mathie H. Moberg, D. D., Gen. D. U. Howard, Jacob A. Riis, Rev. Charles M. Sheldon, of Topeka, Kan., and Booker T. Washington, principal of the Tuskegee institute, and a score of others who are prominently in the public eye.

The United Society is a unique organization in that it is little more than a bureau of information. Under the supervision of its officers literature is printed and distributed. It levies no taxes nor does it make any appeal to local societies for contributions. All profits derived from the sale of its books, badges, cards and other incidental publications are used in extending the work. It exists simply for the convenience of the individual societies and for the purpose of broadening the scope of the great work it is doing.

collars of embroidered lawn. These collars are worn low on the shoulder and give rather a sloping effect, with an inner vest of tucked lawn and lace to correspond. The popularity of the lace blouse seems rather to wax than wane, and just now it is the proper caper to have it made of handsome Maltese lace. I am bound to tell you, however, that this lace used in the making of the approved blouse, in which much fine handwork must appear, would run the price of the garment up to a figure that would place it quite beyond the reach of the average purse.

DAINTY BLOUSES FOR SUMMER WEAR

The extreme daintiness of the new cotton fabrics cannot but appeal to the strongest manner in the love of the beautiful innate in womanhood. Cool-looking dimities and French lawns are to be reckoned among the most attractive materials now on exhibition, while the silk gingham and embroidered cotton batistes are lovely enough to tempt the unwary into rank extravagance. They come in white, pale blue, light green and in the pretty new shades of pink. Some of the silk ginghams have a double border of silk woven on the edge, which is meant to be used as a trimming in connection with much lace and yards upon yards of the ever-popular Persian ribbon. Many of the new mercerized ducks and chevrons, cottonized they be, are exceedingly beautiful, and so closely resemble the most lustrous silk as to make them quite undeniably suited for any but the most dressy wear. Within the week I have seen some very swell-looking tailored gowns fashioned of both these materials, those of cheviot being particularly fetching. All were as carefully tailored, even down to the smallest detail, as though made of the finest broadcloth. Some showed to particular advantage with their short Eton coats tucked both back and from

One of the most lovely new models in headgear I have seen was a nut brown straw toque, trimmed with soft pink roses, with some old patterned ecru lace placed to droop low over the brim. Shapes are very flat and wide just now, and very often they are curved at the side. Flowers will be immensely popular later in the season. Many of the new hats are now tilted off the face, and curved up the back to show the new low coilure, the brims being lined with some controlling color. Some are quite square in front, the entire crowns being garlanded in flowers. The wide boat shape is kept flat and simply trimmed with foliage, rather doubt whether this new flat style of headgear will prove becoming to many, but it is a change; and so we welcome it for its air of novelty, if not for its beauty and general becomingness. DEMOCRATIC CALL.

All members of the Democratic county and precinct committees are requested to meet at the office of P. S. Maxwell, in Marion, Monday, June 10th, at 10 o'clock, a. m. Business of importance is to be transacted.

P. S. Maxwell, Ch'n.
C. S. Nunn, Sec'y.

Senator McLaurin, of S. C. has informed Gov. McSweeney in a letter that he is willing to hold on to his commission but he wishes it distinctly understood that he does so because the governor says it is for the good of the State and not because he is afraid of the issue.

In commenting on the Supreme Court's decision on insular affairs in which this high tribunal holds that the "Constitution does not follow the flag," W. J. Bryan declares that the Supreme Court has joined hands with the President and Congress in an effort to change our form of government, and calls on the people to repudiate the verdict. He referred to the President as Emperor McKinley.

The Livingston Banner seems to think that our physicians "were worked" by Bert Hayes, the man confined in the pest house two weeks ago. Bert had entirely recovered when he left Smithland, so the Banner says, and in order to get "his face fed" told the Marion M. D's that he was suffering with a terrible malady, and "he was put in the pest house where he remained for several days before the doctors realized the joke was on them." The Banner must think our doctors don't know a case of smallpox when they see it. Three physicians examined Hays, and all pronounced his disease smallpox. He suffered with a high fever and was delirious. He either suffered a relapse, which frequently occurs, or was discharged from the pest house at Smithland while suffering with the disease, in which case "the joke" is on the Smithland physicians. The Banner is wrong when it says he was released after the doctors realized the joke was on them. He was not released until he had entirely recovered.

SALEM.

Movements of People in That Prosperous Little City.

We have had a number of railroad and mineral men among us the past week. Among them are Mr. Harwood, an L. C. official, of Evansville, Mr. Lawrence and Mr. Usher, mineral (?) men of Louisville. Mr. Harwood was not here, he said, in the interest of his road (?) but only to pilot the other gentlemen over the mineral districts in this and Crittenden, but to say the least about it, he is very loyal to his road and can't help talking about it, and would like to see everything possible going their way. They are all pleasant gentlemen and we hope to have them with us again soon.

Mr. Ruble, a civil engineer, has been here the past week making a horseback and foot survey over some of the proposed routes from Kattawa to Carversville. We learn he is much pleased with the territory over which he passed. He and Mr. Barnes, the projector of the road, have gone to Cleveland to report and the actual survey will be made and the road built in the near future. Our people here and all along the line are very enthusiastic over the prospects, and stand ready heart, hand and pocketbook to render all possible aid in their power to push the matter to a finish. The whole thing summed up is this: we want the road and intend to have it regardless of neighborly opinions as to our need.

Guy Dunning, who has been so long with J. D. Farris, left this week to travel for the Mayfield Pants Co. We commend him to the public and to the knights of the grip.

Mr. J. G. Campbell is spending a few days here. He is a pharmacist.

Charley Stevens has again been stricken down with rheumatism. See Capt Haase for particulars.

Archie Crosen is a twice a day visitor here and his genial smile is always welcome.

Miss Addie Boyd, who is teaching at Union, came home Friday to visit relatives and friends. She will teach the fall school there.

Ben Gray reports that he was robbed Friday night of his pocket book containing cash, checks and notes to the amount of $500. (?)

If you would like for your loved ones who die to look well when buried, and remain intact for fifty years, let Mr. Boyd embalm them and bury them in his cement vault air tight and water proof.

A new heavy weight Democrat came to Frank Hardy's last week, and Fred is happy.

Roy Threlkeld and Norman Farris each have a fine horse and buggy, but only one girl between them. One of them is usually sick.

"Rap," one of our most genial merchants, and family spent part of last week with friends and relatives near View. He reports the fish caught as being very large.

Our Commercial Club meets every Monday night. Everybody invited.

Backner Croft and wife visited relatives here last week.

Mrs. Joe Waggoner expects to start to Colorado soon. She is in bad health. We hope the change of climate will benefit her. We regret to lose so good a woman from our midst.

We regret to learn that some of our whites behaved very badly at a colored people's barbecue near here last Saturday. Also at their meeting at Zion last Sunday. We hope white people will learn to think better of themselves than to go to these gatherings. Parents, look after your children and see what kind of company they are keeping; it may save you future trouble.

DASHED TO DEATH.

A Horrible Accident at Henshaw Monday.

A most distressing accident occurred at Henshaw Monday evening. Mrs. Callie Cook, who until a few weeks ago resided in this county, lives on a farm near Henshaw. Late Monday evening the horses were being taken to the well to be watered. Press King, a brother of Mrs. Cook, and her little son Everett were with the horses. Mr. King in a playful manner placed the boy on a horse. The animal became frightened and ran. As there were no bridle and saddle on the horse the little rider could not keep his seat and fell to the ground, striking his head on a gate post. He sustained fatal injuries. Throughout the night he suffered terribly and at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning death relieved his agony. The remains were brought to Repton, Mrs. Cook's old home, yesterday for burial. A large concourse of friends attended the funeral services.

Mrs. Cook is a daughter of John N. King, a prominent farmer of Repton.

NOTED TRIAL.

Of Deputy Sheriff and Possemen Concluded.

The trial of deputy sheriff Lindle and his three possemen at Madisonville, charged with killing striking miners, was concluded Sunday morning, when the jury returned a verdict finding Lindle, McIntosh and Johnson guilty of manslaughter, and fixing their punishment at two years in penitentiary, and acquitting W. S. Penrod. The trial consumed two weeks. The best legal talent of Western Kentucky was employed on both sides. Clifton J. Pratt, Fletcher Dempsey and Ollie James were the lawyers for the defense. Ward Hendley and W. H. Yost assisted Commonwealth's Attorney Grayot. A motion for a new trial was made by defense. The case has claimed widespread attention.

DASHED TO DEATH.
A Horrible Accident at Henshaw Monday.

A most distressing accident occurred at Henshaw Monday evening. Mrs. Cathie Cook, who until a few weeks ago resided in this county, lives on a farm near Henshaw. Late Monday evening the horses were being taken to the well to be watered. Press King, a brother of Mrs. Cook, and her little son Everett were with the horses. Mr. King in a playful manner placed the boy on a horse. The animal became frightened and ran. As there were no bridle and saddle on the horse the little rider could not keep his seat and fell to the ground, striking his head on a gate post. He sustained fatal injuries. Throughout the night he suffered terribly and at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning death relieved his agony. The remains were brought to Repton, Mrs. Cook's old home, yesterday for burial. A large concourse of friends attended the funeral services.

Mrs. Cook is a daughter of John N. King, a prominent farmer of Repton.

NOTED TRIAL.
Of Deputy Sheriff and Possemen Concluded.

The trial of deputy sheriff Lindie and his three possemen at Madisonville, charged with killing striking miners, was concluded Sunday morning, when the jury returned a verdict finding Lindie, McIntosh and Johnson guilty of manslaughter, and fixing their punishment at two years in penitentiary, and acquitting W. S. Penrod. The trial consumed two weeks. The best legal talent of Western Kentucky was employed on both sides. Clifton J. Pratt, Fletcher Dempsey and Ollie James were the lawyers for the defense. Ward Headley and W. H. Yost assisted Commonwealth's Attorney Grayot. A motion for a new trial was made by defense. The case has claimed widespread attention.

CONFEDERATE REUNION

The Government Asked to Care for Confederate Graves. Congress and the President Thanked—No Discussion in the Convention Proper—Gen. Gordon Re-elected Commander-in-Chief—Dallas Wins the Next Convention—The Parade.

Memphis, May 30.—Both the morning and the afternoon sessions of the convention of the United Confederate Veterans yesterday passed resolutions looking toward the care of some Confederate graves by the national government. In the convention proper there was no contest over either proposition, but soon after the committee on resolutions met at 9 o'clock in the forenoon the question came up, and there was quite a hot discussion, led for the action by ex-Secretary Hilary A. Herbert and Gen. S. D. Gordon and S. D. Lee for the resolutions before a unanimous report was secured from the committee.

The resolutions as reported and adopted thank the congress and president for removing the remains of some Confederates from the District of Columbia to the Arlington National Cemetery, and ask them to assume the care and preservation of the graves of Confederates buried in the North.

By the adoption of the report of the trustees for the memorial association, the convention approved of paying Gen. John C. Underwood over $25,000 for his work in securing the amount necessary to validate the Charles Broadway Rouss of $100,000.

The trustees will soon meet in Louisville to make plans for the erection of the buildings.

The constitution was amended so that none but the convention could invite guests to it.

A movement was started to erect a suitable memorial to the women of the South for the aid which they gave to the Confederacy.

Impressive services were held in memory of the Daughter of the Confederacy and other Confederate dead.

Gen. Gordon, Wade Hampton, S. D. Lee and W. L. Cabell were enthusiastically re-elected to their present positions.

After choosing Dallas over Louisville by a vote of 1,263 to 1,046, as the next place of meeting, a final adjournment was taken.

Morning Session.

As soon as Gen. Gordon called the convention to order, he asked the assembly to join in singing "Old Hundred" and thousands of voices joined in that grand old hymn, "Praise God from Whom All Blessings Flow," etc.

This was followed by a fervent prayer by the Rev. Dr. Blackard of the Methodist Church.

J. G. Gulce, of Alabama, from the committee on credentials, reported upon the organization of the convention.

The report showed the following as the number of camps and delegates from each State, division and territory entitled to membership in the convention:

Camps	Delegates
Texas	250
Mississippi	150
Georgia	132
Tennessee	61
Arkansas	62
Alabama	102
Kentucky	65
Louisiana	62
South Carolina	132
Virginia	49
North Carolina	65
Missouri	42
Florida	38
Pacific Division	11
West Virginia	26
Indian Territory	26
Maryland	12
Oklahoma Territory	20
District of Columbia	18
Illinois	12
Indiana	12
Ohio	12
Total	1,263
Delegates	2,305

The report was adopted.

Noise on the street interrupted the convention at this point so badly that Gen. Gordon said that if the local authorities could not stop it, he could do so with the old veterans. (Applause.)

The rules provided that all resolutions must go unread to the committee and the first one presented was one of thanks to the old Confederate darkies; another was to erect a monument to the old slaves. There was one memorializing congress to erect a monument to Lieut.-Col. Robert E. Lee, U. S. A., in Washington.

Gen. S. D. Lee, chairman of the historical committee, then presented the report of that committee.

There was somewhat of a tangle growing out of the proposition to adopt the report without reading it, Gen. Cabell leading. A member from Texas moved that the report to make a special order for 3 o'clock in the afternoon and that was adopted.

Mr. Roberts, from the camp at Franklin, Tenn., presented for reference and future action a resolution looking toward weeding out of the camps any who did not remain in the service to the end of the war.

Evening Session.

When the convention reassembled at 3 o'clock there was a good attendance of delegates, but the great bulk of the visitors preferred seeing the flower parade. The noise of whistles on the outside and of a Clarksville, Tenn., serenading party also caused some confusion and delay in the hall.

The first matter taken up was the special order consisting of the report of the historical committee, Col. J. W. Nicholson, of the University of Louisiana, at Baton Rouge, who wrote the report, read it in full, as far as his voice would permit and then Gen. S. D. Lee, chairman of the committee, completed the reading.

The report is a most excellent historical paper, giving a complete justification to the South for her actions, largely from the evidence of Northern writers and speakers. From a literary point also the report is strongly put.

As the various strong grounds in the report were brought out, the delegates applauded liberally.

Upon the conclusion of the reading, Gen. Lee said that Col. Nicholson wrote the report and he considered it the dearest and most important submitted by the committee. He also referred to the fact that Gen. H. V. Boynton was now attacking the historical errors in the text books in use in the Washington public schools.

Chaplain-General Jones moved the adoption of the report. O. O. Pickard of Waverly, Tenn., seconded the motion and it was carried with a loud cheer.

Col. Young then said that he voiced the sentiments of all when he nominated Gen. John B. Gordon for re-election as commander-in-chief for another term and the manner in which the delegates stood up and cheered proved the assertion. The assembly, with one accord both put and carried the motion. It was the one scene of the convention.

Gen. Gordon spoke with great feeling when he arose in response to tumultuous cheers and calls. He said: "My beloved comrades: You must allow this throbbing heart of mine to answer this call which you, my beloved Confederate Veterans, have given me. I love you all, my comrades. I love you more and more as the years pass. The highest hope that I have on earth is that you shall be my associates in the world above us. God bless you all. I am yours while I live and yours through all eternity."

To which a grizzled old delegate from the floor replied: "Gen. Gordon, you do not love us any more than we love you," and all the people said "Amen."

Col. Young also nominated Lieut.-Gen. S. D. Lee, Wade Hampton and W. L. Cabell for re-election to their present positions as commanders of the three departments of the army, and they were all unanimously elected with great show of enthusiasm.

Gen. Carville, from the committee on resolutions, made a supplementary report favoring the adoption of the following amendments to the constitution:

In order to strictly adhere to the noble purposes for which this association was organized; to formally add to the constitution and by-laws, what is now and has been the custom and law of this association; and which is necessary, to prevent discussion of political or religious subjects or anything foreign to the purposes for which this association was organized from gaining a foothold in it, or for giving cause for protests, resolutions, discussion, hard feelings, or acrimonious debate, either in the camps or at our general reunions, all of which have a tendency to disorganize and disrupt the association, to wit:

Be it resolved, That the following amendment to the constitution be adopted:

"That neither the general commanding, nor department or division commanders, nor any official of this association, nor 'Our Host,' shall have the right to invite any one to a U. C. V. reunion other than Confederates; this right shall rest alone with the delegates in convention assembled."

To amend section 1 of article 2 of the by-laws to read, after the word 'federation': 'Such reunion to be held only at points in those States which furnished bodies of troops to the Confederate army.'"

This amendment to the constitution was adopted without debate.

In this connection it may be well to state that this matter came up in the last reunion at Louisville, and under the constitution went over until this reunion for final action, so that there is no connection between this action and the invitation to President McKinley to be present in Memphis at the reunion.

A proposed constitutional amendment limiting the right of delegates to make subscriptions at reunions binding upon their camps, was killed in the committee.

The committee also reported and secured the passage of a resolution that in the future one day for general business should be attended by the delegates only.

The committee also reported favorably upon a proposed amendment to the constitution giving the executive committee the right to select the place and time for the annual reunions. Under the rules this will come before the next reunion for final action.

The following resolutions came from the same committee and were adopted without debate, the first one coming from Gen. S. D. Lee and the last from Camp No. 173, at Booneville, Miss.:

Resolved, That we respectfully request that congress take appropriate action looking to the care and preservation of the graves of Confederate dead now in various cemeteries of the Northern States.

Resolved, That at all future reunions the delegates be requested to wear on the front of their hats a badge showing the regiment to which the wearer belonged.

Dallas Wins Next Convention.

Mrs. Kate Cabell Currie of Dallas, Texas, daughter of Gen. W. L. Cabell, nominated Dallas as the next place of meeting. She began, "My dear old sweethearts," an captivated the crowd with the opening statement.

She presented written invitations from the public officials and various organized bodies and upon closing was loudly cheered.

Col. Bennett H. Young, from a chair on the floor voiced the claims of Louisville for a return engagement. "In the name of a people who sent 42,000 of its sons to fight for your homes, I ask you to come again and accept our hospitality." He received applause when he said that instead of hanging the lightning on the outside, the doors could be kicked down, and "if you see anything that you want there take it, for there is no law in Louisville against a Confederate soldier in reunion times."

Henry George of Kentucky, seconded Col. Young's motion.

Judge R. E. Beckham of Fort Worth, Texas, made a strong and effective speech seconding Mrs. Currie's motion.

Judge Kittrell of Houston made a flowery and ornate speech in favor of his State's city.

Col. Bowles of Louisville made a strong plea for that city.

A Mississippi delegate offered a few remarks in favor of Louisville.

After a few more speeches on each side the balloting began.

The ballot was as follows: Dallas, 1,263; Louisville, 1,046.

On motion of Col. Young the selection of Dallas was made unanimous amid the loud cheers of the Texans.

The eleventh annual convention of the United Confederate Veterans Association then, at 5:54 o'clock p. m., adjourned without a day.

Owing to the haste with which the convention worked when it became evident that a final adjournment was possible, the report of surgeon-general G. H. Teraht was simply filed and read. It covered very much the same ground as did the report of the historical committee.

The Parade.

Memphis, May 31.—The reunion reached its climax yesterday morning, when 15,000 Confederate Veterans marched through the streets of the city, with Gen. John B. Gordon, Gen. Fitzhugh Lee and Gen. Joe Wheeler at their head.

The procession was the grandest and greatest one that ever took place in Memphis or in the entire South, for that matter. It was composed of an army of heroes. The blood that flowed through the veins of its marchers was the blood that was so freely spilled at King's Mountain, at Cowpens, at New Orleans and at Chancellorsville. The sires of the men who kept step to the drumbeats yesterday were the men who have marched in the van of all the armies that have been marshaled in freedom's cause.

The 15,000 men who took part in the great parade yesterday represented practically all that is left in the flesh of the armies of defense that were thrown against the legions that the North had recruited from the nations of the earth. It was all that survives of the hosts that made Manassas, Chickamauga, Shiloh, Missionary Ridge and the Wilderness more bloody than Thermopylae. It was the fragments of the armies that gave the world and posterity its sublime inspiration and devotion to principle.

It was a knowledge of this that made the great throbbing heart of the multitude that gazed on the parade yesterday beat in sympathy with the marchers. It was this that caused the tear to come to the eye and the cheer from the throat.

Never before in the history of Memphis were the people so enthused. The whole population of the city turned out and this was augmented by the thousands upon thousands of visitors who are here from all parts of the country. The parade, which took two and one half hours to pass a glance at, marched through solid ranks of human beings, who cheered themselves hoarse in efforts to shout acclaim to the veterans. It was really awesome to those isolated from the marchers and the crowds to hear the constant roar of the 100,000 blended human voices as they rose and fell like the waves of the ocean.

The crowd was lavish with its applause. It gave Gen. Gordon, Fitzhugh Lee and Joe Wheeler regular ovations and then cheered each army division, each camp, each bivouac, the sires, the sponsors and even individuals whose characteristics would make them noticeable as they passed. The crowds were there to do honor to all that is palpable of the Confederacy. When the battle-scarred flags were borne past hats were lifted and the crowds gazed on them reverently and with bared heads.

The parade was the most pathetic spectacle that was ever presented in Memphis. The weight of forty years rests upon the shoulders of the boys who wore the gray from the first Manassas to Appomattox Court House. It has bowed and enfeebled the bodies that were once as straight and as vigorous as the hickory saplings. Its winters have frosted the heads of the old soldiers and it was apparent to all who saw the parade yesterday that only a short time will elapse before such an event will be a physical impossibility.

However, the men who were in line were splendid specimens of American manhood in its old age. They walked with a vigor and with a carriage that shows that the fire still burns strong within them.

As the veterans marched and countermarched through the Court of Honor a sight was presented that will live forever in the memories of all who saw it. The long line of marching soldiers, afoot and mounted, the music of bands and trumpet corps, the vehicles containing the beautiful sponsors, their mounds of honor and chaplains, the standards of the States, the divisions, corps, brigades and companies, the tattered battle flags and the valiant multitude made up of a tall tale like of which had never before been seen in the South.

Then there were amusing scenes also, scenes to bring the smile to the path of the tear. One of the Nashville uniformed companies had a number of ex-slaves and negro veterans marching in its rear. The two that came last were as black as the ace of spades, but their old faces were shining with pride. One carried a saber and his stride was that of a stage hero. The other had a fat pullet thrown over his shoulder and looked as though he had just returned from a foraging trip that had caused some one's chicken roost to suffer.

The bands that headed the various divisions were of more than usual excellence. Of course, they played the airs that are dear to the hearts of Southerners and every time that the soul-stirring tune of "Dixie" was played cheers would go up that threatened to rend the heavens. The old soldiers seemed to be rejuvenated every time the grand old melody was played, for their feet would move in time to its rollicking, joyous notes.

The martial music of the trumpet corps was greatly enjoyed. The Sons of Veterans' trumpet corps of this city covered itself with glory. It was one of the best drilled organizations in line, and its music was faultless. The Atlanta fire department drum corps, one of the very best organizations in the South, made a great hit. The mitty uniforms of the members and the old-time helmets lent a bit of color to the parade that was very agreeable to the eye.

The Charleston, S. C., trumpet corps was another splendid organization. Its uniform was very rich and gave the band a highly picturesque appearance.

Gen. Joe Wheeler, an Fitzhugh Lee rode side by side, and were given an ovation. The retentive and jovial faced Virginia cavalryman, and the little wiry wizened Alabamian were one of the features of the parade.

Both led their troops in brave charges in the civil war, and endeared themselves to their countrymen, and both again became gallantly conspicuous in the public eye, in the Spanish-American trouble. The freshness of their valor in the recent war lent a special interest to their presence, and their reception was not second to even Commander-in-Chief Gordon himself.

Next to Gen. Gordon, Lee and Wheeler a place of honor had been reserved for the "Southern Mothers," the women who nursed the soldiers in gray during the trying days. They were in two closed carriages, and were given a many hearty cheers.

The sponsors and maids of honor for the various departments and divisions rode in open carriages immediately in the rear of the staff of the general commanding. A neat planed placed on the carriage told where the ladies were from, and they were the recipients of the applause directed to their respective States.

The Army of Northern Virginia was assigned first place in the department. Gen. Wade Hampton, the brave and sterling old South Carolinian who commands this department, was unable to be present, and it was necessary to elect some one to march at the head of his troops. This honor fell to Maj. Gen. C. Irvine Walker, who was commander of the South Carolina division in this department.

Virginia, "the Mother State" was given the honor of first place in this department. The division was commanded by Maj. Gen. Theodore S. Garret and followed his staff came about 150 men. Each veteran carried a flag with the picture of Gen. Robert E. Lee and the words "Our Commander" on it. Then came the representatives from the other camps in the State.

The Trans-Mississippi Department was the best represented department in the parade. It was made up of the Missouri, Texas, Arkansas, Indian Territory, Oklahoma and Pacific divisions, and was commanded by Gen. W. L. Cabell.

The Army of Tennessee, comprising the divisions of Georgia, Alabama, Tennessee, Mississippi, Florida and Tennessee, Mississippi, Louisiana, Alabama, Kentucky followed the Trans-Mississippi department. It was commanded by Lieut.-Gen. S. D. Lee, and was one of the most imposing parts of the parade.

The Tennessee division brought up the rear of this department. It was the largest division in the parade, and the only one which comprised two uniformed companies of Confederate Veterans completely uniformed and armed. This division was commanded by Gen. John M. Taylor and was made up of uniform companies from Nashville and Memphis and the various camps throughout the State. Out of courtesy to the visitors they came last, their rightful position in the parade being third.

Forrest cavalry corps made one of the best shows in the parade. This reunion has done more than all his other triumphs and re-unions of the past thirty years to bring the deeds of the famous cavalry leader to the attention of the world. The men who followed the "Wizard of the Saddle" knew his worth as a general, but the world has been reluctant to acknowledge him the genius that he was. In the light of recent investigation, and after mature deliberation and consideration of the campaigns of the war, the world has been forced to recognize the abilities of the great cavalry leader. In the last few years Gen. Forrest has become better known to the student of history than ever before, and those who saw nothing specially brilliant in his record before are beginning to acknowledge him one of the greatest generals that fought on either side.

Following the veteran sires, with their grizzled locks, war worn visages and feeble step came the Sons of Veterans.

The Sons of Veterans fell in line after Forrest cavalry, and were headed by the Memphis drum corps.

The mysterious change that develops the thoughtless girl into the thoughtful woman should find the mother on the watch day and night. As she cares for the physical well-being of her daughter, so will the woman be, and her children also.

When the young girl's thoughts become sluggish, when she experiences headaches, dizziness, faintness, and exhibits an abnormal disposition to sleep, pains in the back and lower limbs, eyes dim, desire for solitude, and a dislike for the society of other girls, when she is a mystery to herself and friends, then the mother should go to her aid promptly. At such a time the greatest aid to nature is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It prepares the young system for the coming change, and is the surest reliance in this hour of trial.

The following letters from Miss Good are practical proof of Mrs. Pinkham's efficient advice to young women.

Miss Good asks Mrs. Pinkham for Help.

June 12th, 1900.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have been very much bothered for some time with my monthly periods being irregular. I will tell you all about it, and put myself in your care, for I have heard so much of you. Each month menstruation would become less and less, until it entirely stopped for six months, and now it has stopped again. I have become very nervous and of a very bad color. I am a young girl and have always had to work very hard. I would be very much pleased if you would tell me what to do."—Miss Pearl Good, Cor. 20th Avenue and Veslar Way, Seattle, Wash.

The Happy Result.

February 10th, 1900.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound enough. It is just simply wonderful the change your medicine has made in me. I feel like another person. My work is now a pleasure to me, while before using your medicine it was a burden. To-day I am a healthy and happy girl. I think if more women would use your Vegetable Compound there would be less suffering in the world. I cannot express the relief I have experienced by using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Miss Pearl Good, Cor. 20th Avenue and Veslar Way, Seattle, Wash.

HAS ADOPTED MAXIMITE.

The United States Has the Most Powerful Explosive Yet Conceived by Man.

ITS USE WOULD MAKE WAR UNPOPULAR.

Twelve inches of Harvested Nickel Steel Armour No Protection Against Shells Propelled by It, and It Is the Least Dangerous Explosive to Handle.

New York, June 3.—The Press says: Maximite, the new explosive invented in England, has been adopted in this country after a series of successful tests in the Sandy Hook proving grounds. The secret of the explosive, it is thought, may revolutionize warfare. It is said to be more deadly than lyddite, yet so safely can it be handled that the danger attaching to its use is less than that incurred in transporting ordinary powder.

A shell propelled by it will pierce a 12-inch Harvested nickel plate. After being fired a plate of this strength and thickness has been pierced. The tests have been made by the committee, and have been conducted with great secrecy. The opinion expressed by experts that Maximite may revolutionize the handling of shells and fortifications. The secret of this explosive is so guarded that a red hot iron may be used to handle it without causing an explosion. The explosion of Maximite is accomplished by means of a fuse, which is adopted by the committee, filled in the same manner as Maximite into the same shell. A plate in which a hole of this thickness, all exploded, where the Maximite shells are fired, the steel plates a foot thick. These tests of Maximite, it is said, have demonstrated that it is no warship of any navy that can stand up to its destruction. The Maximite in person, there he is, the present except the old Maximite, and experts representing the committee.

Mr. Maxim said: "The United States now has a war with any other nation, it will be able to throw its shells through the armor of our enemies in their warships, while they would be able only to pierce our armor with solid shot, without causing any burning or explosion." The mind of these new tests is that the ponderous shells, which are replaced by the lighter, swift torpedo boat or the Maximite and cruiser.

Trade With Spain Restored.
Washington, June 3.—Commercial relations between Spain and the United States seem to have been fully restored, and it is not improbable that our exports to that country in the fiscal year 1901 will be greater, with possibly a single exception, than in any preceding year.

A million of dollars are spent every year upon the game of baseball, but large as this sum is, it cannot begin to equal the amount spent by people in search of health. There is a sure method of obtaining strength, and it is not a costly one. We urge those who have spent much and lost hope to try Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. It strengthens the stomach, makes digestion easy and natural, and cures dyspepsia, constipation, biliousness and weak kidneys.

LION COFFEE

A LUXURY WITHIN THE REACH OF ALL!

Lion Coffee is not GLAZED, COATED, or otherwise treated with EGG mixtures, chemicals, glue, etc., etc. Lion Coffee is a Pure Coffee.

"EXCELSIOR."
The shades of night were falling fast,
As through a certain city passed
A youth, who from his mother bore
This order for the grocery store—
"LION COFFEE."
His eye was glad, his mouth beneath,
Curled in anticipatory wreath,
And like a memory there hung
The wholesome taste upon his tongue—
"LION COFFEE."
His happy home he saw so bright,
With table spread in morning light,
Above it rose the fragrant smell—
Aroma that he loved so well—
"LION COFFEE."
"Try something else," the grocer said,
"Here's other brands to buy instead.
And these are just as good, my son,"
The boy replied, "There is but one
"LION COFFEE."
"O stay," the grocer said, "and try
Of fine glazed coffee one supply.
It is self-setting when supplied."
"That settles it!" the boy replied—
"LION COFFEE."
"Tis not the coffee glazed with glue,
Nor hid by artificial hue.
This was my mother's last request,
I must insist upon the best—
"LION COFFEE."
"That coffee's always good and pure,
And with each package we secure
A Lion's head; a few of these
Bring us free gifts, so give me, please,
"LION COFFEE."

In every package of LION COFFEE you will find a fully illustrated and descriptive list. No housekeeper, in fact, no woman, man, boy or girl will fail to find in the list some article which will contribute to their happiness, comfort and convenience, and which they may have by simply cutting out a certain number of Lion Heads from the wrappers of our one pound sealed packages (which is the only form in which this excellent coffee is sold). NEWS OF THE COUNTY.

HURRICANE ISLAND.

The people of this island, in order to form a more perfect union, would like to have a place in some secluded corner of making known to the outside world that there is such a place as Hurricane Island, and that it is almost a perpetual habitation.

The farmers of the little colony have at last cast their bread upon the waters, with fear and trembling that it shall not be gathered up many days hence, but be washed away.

They are about done planting the three crops the Tolu correspondent said they were to plant, that of corn, pumpkins, and Jonah's gourds. The pumpkin vine grows with such rapidity I am afraid it will wear the pumpkin out dragging it along the ground.

The health of our people is very good with the exception of two or three that are nagging around with Job's disease.

We have an agent for a bath cabinet to be common a thing as a sugar-coated pill—plenty of agents but no railroad near nor mineralogists.

We wonder why our Tolu friends don't come over to the land of sand and cucumbers, and the orange grows wild, for in our mansions there is room and we eat three meals a day.

One of our best citizens is in great trouble and refuses to be comforted because his best girl is in another State and the governor won't issue requisition papers for her return. Be of good cheer Bob, one of the sweetest days of your life will be when she returns.

One of the islanders floated silently down the current of the beautiful Ohio and quickly landed at Elizabethtown, and on his return was found to be the happy possessor of a bonnie bride. But what does a man want with a wife here unless he wants her to comb the hirs out of his hair.

If a few good brothers and sisters will come over into Cannan and help us we can organize a good Sunday school and prayer meeting.

There is a prize at the post office at Tolu that is worth the winning, so say C. W. Taylor and L. Martin.

Bud Stone, Tolu's river man, started from the mouth of Hurricane creek on Thursday night with a raft of express logs, bound for Paducah.

As there are no visits to write about and Friday and I have been busy making preparations for a long touring expedition up Peters Creek, and every thing now in readiness, guess I had better close and go on my way rejoicing.

Window shades, all sizes and colors, at Boston & Walker's.

NEWS OF THE COUNTY.

HURRICANE ISLAND.

The people of this island, in order to form a more perfect union, would like to have a place in some secluded corner of making known to the outside world that there is such a place as Hurricane Island, and that it is almost a perpetual habitation.

The farmers of the little colony have at last cast their bread upon the waters, with fear and trembling that it shall not be gathered up many days hence, but be washed away.

They are about done planting the three crops the Tolu correspondent said they were to plant, that of corn, pumpkins, and donah's gourds. The pumpkin vine grows with such rapidity I am afraid it will wear the pumpkin out dragging it along the ground.

The health of our people is very good with the exception of two or three that are grinding around with Job's disease.

We have an agent for most anything you want to buy, from a bath cabinet to as common a thing as a sugar coated pill—plenty of agents but no railroad near nor mineralogists.

We wonder why our Tolu friends don't come over to the land of sand and coconuts, and the orange grows wild, for in our mansions there is room and we eat three meals a day.

One of our best citizens is in great trouble and refuses to be comforted because his best girl is in another State and the governor won't issue requisition papers for her return. Be of good cheer Holl, one of the sweetest days of your life will be when she returns.

One of the islanders floated silently down the current of the beautiful Ohio and quickly landed at Elizabethtown, and on his return was found to be the happy possessor of a bonnie bride. But what does a man want with a wife here unless he wants her to comb the burs out of his hair.

If a few good brothers and sisters will come over into Canaan and help us we can organize a good Sunday school and prayer meeting.

There is a prize at the post office at Tolu that is worth the winning, so say C. W. Taylor and L. Martin.

Bud Stone, Tolu's river man, started from the mouth of Hurricane creek on Thursday night with a raft of cypress logs, bound for Paducah.

As there are no visits to write about and Friday and I have been busy making preparations for a long touring expedition up Peters Creek, and everything now in readiness, guess I had better close and go on my way rejoicing.

NEWS OF THE COUNTY.

HURRICANE ISLAND.

The people of this island, in order to form a more perfect union, would like to have a place in some secluded corner of making known to the outside world that there is such a place as Hurricane Island and that it is almost a perpetual habitation.

The farmers of the little colony have at last cast their bread upon the waters, with fear and trembling that it shall not be gathered up many days hence, but be washed away.

They are about done planting the three crops the Tolu correspondent said they were to plant, that of corn, pumpkins, and donah's gourds. The pumpkin vine grows with such rapidity I am afraid it will wear the pumpkin out dragging it along the ground.

The health of our people is very good with the exception of two or three that are grunting around with Job's disease.

We have an agent for most anything you want to buy, from a bath cabinet to as common a thing as a sugar-coated pill plenty of agents but no railroad near nor mineralogists.

We wonder why our Tolu friends don't come over to the land of sand and coele bars, and the orange grows wild, for in our mansions there is room and we eat three meals a day.

One of our best citizens is in great trouble and refuses to be comforted, because his best girl is in another State and the governor won't issue requisition papers for her return. He of good cheer Bob, one of the sweetest days of your life will be when she returns.

One of the islanders floated silently down the current of the beautiful Ohio and quickly landed at Elizabethtown, and on his return was found to be the happy possessor of a bonnie bride. But what does a man want with a wife here unless he wants her to comb the hairs out of his hair.

If a few good brothers and sisters will come over into Canaan and help us we can organize a good Sunday school and prayer meeting.

There is a prize at the post office at Tolu that is worth the winning, so say C. W. Taylor and L. Martin.

Bud Stone, Tolu's river man, started from the mouth of Hurricane creek on Thursday night with a raft of cypress logs, bound for Paducah.

As there are no visits to write about and Friday and I have been busy making preparations for a long touring expedition up Peters Creek, and every thing now in readiness, guess I had better close and go on my way rejoicing. Crusoe.

They know she had not been able to leave her bed in seven years, on account of Kidney and Liver trouble, nervous prostration and general debility; but "three bottles of Electric Bitters enabled me to walk," so she writes, "and in three months I felt like a new person." Rock-a-Bye Baby

These are sweet words, but how much pain and suffering they used to mean. It's different now. Since Mother's Friend has become known expectant mothers have been spared much of the anguish of childbirth. Mother's Friend is a liniment to be applied externally. It is rubbed thoroughly into the muscles of the abdomen. It gives elasticity and strength, and when the final great strain comes they respond quickly and easily without pain. Mother's Friend is never taken internally. Internal remedies at this time do more harm than good. If a woman is supplied with this splendid liniment she need never fear rising or swelling breasts, morning sickness, or any of the discomforts which usually accompany pregnancy.

The proprietor of a large hotel in Tampa, Fla., writes: "My wife had an awful time with her first child. During her second pregnancy, Mother's Friend was used and the baby was born easily before the doctor arrived. It's certainly great."
